About Alleviate Cream

Alleviate is a powerful proprietary topical cream with twenty-one all-natural ingredients plus Full Spectrum Hemp Oil Extract. This topical cream provides one of the easiest ways to take advantage of Hemp Extract's benefits and can be used to target specific areas of medicinal pain and discomfort.

Inflammation is directly linked with acute pain, particularly at joints or in muscles. By applying Alleviate Cream to the affected areas, the cannabinoid's natural anti-inflammatory effects can help to reduce the inflammation and therefore relieve any discomfort being experienced due to sore muscles. Inflammation is essentially the body's response to a threat to your health. In the case of physical trauma or strenuous activity, inflammation can arise in response, which tends to show itself in the form of pain, swelling, redness and soreness. Alleviate Cream can help target and reduce inflammation because of its unique ability to indirectly interact with the CB1 and CB2 receptors of the endocannabinoid system (ECS).

More people are turning to Full Spectrum Hemp Extract Oil to help them deal with pain management. In addition to reducing inflammation (a great pain-reliever itself), Hemp oil can also increase blood flow throughout the areas affected and soothes muscle tension.

It has also been found to alleviate stress and speed up the recovery of muscles that have experienced injury or overuse.

Alleviate promotes overall skin health. Again, Hemp Extract's interaction with the endocannabinoid receptors can help to reduce inflammation, often a culprit behind acne. It can also help to reduce the production of oil in the skin further reducing blemishes. In addition, Hemp Extract contains linoleic acid, which further helps to regulate oil production on the skin and stop breakouts.
